Date: April 15th, 2016

The 2016 class of Leadership Cayman (LC) enjoyed a tour of the Legislative Assembly building on Wednesday 13th April, prior to their seminar at the Government Administration building on Elgin Avenue. Entitled ‘Cayman Islands Government,’ the class attended their sixth seminar of the program, which was organised by LC class members Mrs. Kelly McGlashan and Mr. Owen McLaughlin. Ms. Nangel Kwong spearheaded the seminar, mentoring both Mr. Kenny and Ms. Smith who coordinated the Government seminar of 2016.

Class members had the privilege of hearing from multiple guest speakers, including politicians and senior government officials who gave individual and insightful presentations. They discussed some of the pivotal roles government has in shaping the socio-economic and cultural landscape of the Islands, as well as their own roles within the government itself. The invited guests also addressed some of the challenges they face and responsibilities they maintain, and some of the challenges ahead for government.

The class members of 2016 listened eagerly and intently to the speeches made by Hon. Alden McLaughlin, MBE, JP – Premier; Hon. Franz Manderson, Cert. Hon., JP – Deputy Governor and Head of Civil Service; Mr. Roy McTaggart, MLA – Councillor to the Minister for Home Affairs, Health and Culture and Minister for Financial Services, Commerce & Environment; and Mr Samuel Rose, JP – Cabinet Secretary. The class were also surprised and lucky to be given a presentation by Mr. Kim Evans, Sergeant at Arms, during their tour of the Legislative Assembly building.

The class of 2016 will regroup in a fortnight for their seventh seminar of 2016, focussing on the Cayman Islands’ ‘Human Services and Health Care.’
